City Officials Prepare to Combat
Violence if Big Walkout
Should Take Place.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Repeated threats of a great general strike to help the striking street car employees caused all branches of the city government charged with enforcing the laws to prepare today for outbreaks of mob violence. Mayor Mitchell's notice that he stood ready to invoke all the civil and military power at his command to suppress disorder was followed by greater police activity and a warning that persons convicted of engaging in strike riots would receive heavier punishment. The police department told the transportation companies that they could re-establish night service as soon as they were ready, under assurance of adequate protection. Thus far 600 policemen have been disposed at strategic points. This police guard includes a patrol of 50 automobiles and 100 motor cyclists among the most exposed car routes.

Union Leaders Meet Today.
Trades union leaders representing about 700,000 workers will meet this afternoon to decide whether to issue a call for a general strike. Some of the labor leaders said such a strike, if ordered, would begin Monday or Tuesday. The call, they said, would be based on the ground that organized wage earners should not ride in cars manned by strikebreakers.

Cross-town surface lines where cars ran last night, were not molested. The lines were under heavy police guard.

The early morning bombardments of elevated trains were resumed, however, strike sympathizers lurking on roof tops throwing bricks and bottles which shattered car windows. Several passengers were injured in 16 attacks reported by the police.

Gongora With Strikers.
The plan announced yesterday by M. J. Ragan of the State Board of Arbitration and Mediation to enforce arbitration was temporarily abandoned today and the hearings which he announced would be held Monday have been postponed. The question will be taken up, it was announced, at a meeting of the State Industrial Commission Tuesday.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who attended the Mayor's conference, declared that he was with the strikers "to the last ditch in their fight for the right to organize."

Theodore Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit and the New York Railways companies, issued a statement in which he declared "that no union men will be reinstated" by the Interborough. He said, however, that former employees on the surface cars of the New York Railways Co. would be taken back, provided they came free of unionism.

DISPUTE OVER POSSESSION OF BEAGLE HOUND SETTLED

Mrs. Elizabeth Bremer, who took dog from vacant house to live, Robert Coyne a pup.
A dispute over the possession of a beagle hound, which disappeared from the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bremer, 4338 Levee street, Aug. 2, and which was brought in good faith by Robert Coyne, 225 Page boulevard, has been settled by Mrs. Bremer agreeing to let Coyne have one of the hound's four pups.

Mrs. Bremer found her missing dog in a vacant house at 5025 Ridge avenue, which is owned by Coyne. An advertisement of a beagle hound for sale inserted in the Post-Dispatch by Coyne led Mrs. Bremer to the house and she repossessed herself of the dog and its pups without consulting Coyne, who in the advertisement in the Post-Dispatch was asking "the buyer" who for the first time he had entered his house and taken his dog to be a real "sport" and return the largest male pup, the pet of his son. It was through the latter advertisement that Mrs. Bremer and Coyne got in contact and settled the dispute.

WOUNDED STRIKER OPERATED ON

Piece of Bone Removed, but Bullet Not Taken Out.
An unusual operation was performed at the Christian Hospital yesterday on Earl Porter, a striking milk driver who was shot in the neck by armed guards on a Pevely Dairy wagon at Grand and Chestnut avenues Aug. 23. A piece of bone 1/4 by 1 inch was removed from the upper vertebrae to relieve pressure on the bullet which is imbedded there. The surgeon said it was inadvisable to remove the bullet, owing to the condition of Porter, which is critical.

BLACK CAT IN EXECUTIVE OFFICES AT ASBURY PARK

She Arrives Unheralded and Purring, and Is Regarded as a Good Omen

ASBURY PARK, Sept. 22.—What was considered by President Wilson's supporters to be a good luck sign appeared yesterday afternoon at the executive offices at Asbury Park. Everybody was busy, punching typewriters or telegraph keys, or dictating letters when Rudolph Forster, executive secretary, felt something brush his leg. He looked down and there was a big black cat staring at him purring in the face.
The entire office staff jumped up and chorused, "Purr!" Somebody promptly named the cat Omena and she was soon dissipating with a bowl of cream. A comfortable living place was established for her in an anteroom and instructions issued that the offices should be her permanent home until election day. "Then she will move to Washington for four years and several months," said one enthusiast.

ONE CHINAMAN REGISTERS TO VOTE THIS FALL IN ST. LOUIS

Sit Hom Yuen, However, Is an American Born Citizen, Coming From San Francisco.

Sit Hom Yuen, president of the Oriental Tea and Mercantile Co., 23 South Eighth street, in the only Chinese registered voter in St. Louis. Sit was born in San Francisco.

When he went to the registration place in the Third Precinct of the Sixth Ward he had to produce a passport, which he had to make a trip to China to prove that he was American born and entitled to a vote.

Sit has never voted before. He said he had received instructions to register from the Chinese Alliance in San Francisco, but he did not know what ticket he would vote until he had consulted with the California organization. Sit said he and one other Chinese in St. Louis are members of the alliance.

INCREASES SIZE—ARRESTED

Policeman Sees Slim Man Grow Fat and Finds Stolen Sheets.

The transfiguration of Frank P. Walsh, 32 years old, of the Pacific House, caught the eye of a policeman at Ninth and Market streets last night and caused Walsh's arrest.

Walsh was as slim as Mutt of Mutt and Jeff when he passed the policeman at 9 p. m., and when he again passed 10 minutes later he looked like Weber of Weber and Field.

"Say, what restaurant did you patronize?" asked the policeman as he gave Walsh the once over. "You certainly took on a lot of weight in a short time. The mystery was solved when the policeman found four bed sheets tucked away beneath Walsh's vest. Walsh admitted having taken the sheets from the rooming house of Joseph Schweppe, 319 Park avenue.

DANCES HELD ON BARE GROUND

Experiment in Washington Promoted by R. C. B. of N. Y. C.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Members of the New York Avenue Playgrounds Club are holding a series of dances on the bare ground, the surface of which they first oiled thoroughly and then sprinkled, to lay the dust. One of the most delightful dances of the season was given non the grounds of the club last night.

"The oiled ground," said one of the young women present, "is smooth, and the air is fine. I doubt if ever in the summer we return to a wooden floor. The ground is soft and silent and you hear nothing but the music."

PRICE OF CIGARS GOING UP

Manufacturers Say Consumers Must Share in Higher Cost of Production.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—An increase in the price of cigars was announced here today by several manufacturers and members of the tobacco trade said that advances would soon be general.

Higher cost of raw material and better wages for cigarmakers must be shared by the consumers, jobbers and retailers.

CITY REGISTRATION IS SLIGHTLY UNDER RECORD OF 1910

169,974 Recorded With Returns From 33 Precincts Not In for Yesterday.

TOTAL ABOUT 171,000

Ten Thousand Names Usually Cut Off in Revision—170,301 Final Total in 1910.

The registration on the four days set apart for that purpose and ending yesterday was 169,974, with 33 of the 500 precincts yet to be heard from.
At the Election Commissioners' office today it was estimated that the missing precincts would show an average registration of 36 for yesterday. They have already made returns for the three preceding days. At this average they would add 1188, bringing the total registration to 171,162.
It was at first thought that this year's registration had broken all records, but it was found that the registration total in 1910, after revision, was 170,301. A revision usually results in the striking off of about 10,000 names, this year's net registration is expected to be smaller than in 1910.

Revision Day Oct. 13.
For the four registration days the figures were as follows: Monday, 59,552; Tuesday, 47,778; Wednesday, 36,586; Thursday (33 precincts missing), 26,058.
A canvass of the registration will now be made and revision day will be Oct. 13, when the names of all voters not entitled to registration will be stricken from the list.

Voters who remove after registering may have their names transferred at the city hall from Oct. 15 to Nov. 1. Those who were ill or more than 50 miles from St. Louis on the registration days may register at the city hall on Nov. 1.

Included among the absentees will be the St. Louis members of the national guard, who are expected to return to St. Louis next Tuesday.
Guardmen and other absentees between now and Nov. 1 must submit their return affidavits and those of two registered voters, each to show they were 30 miles or more from the city on the registration day. The usual cost of an affidavit is 50 cents, so that it will cost a voter to establish his right to vote. Similar affidavits must be made to prove illness on the registration days.

Filipino Complaints.
A new problem was presented today when Leodoro Manuel Sison, a Filipino, went to the Election Commissioners' office and said he had been denied the right to register. He is employed at the Central Public Library and lives at 5445 Vernon avenue. He exhibited first citizenship papers issued to him by the Federal Court in St. Louis in 1908.

The Election Commissioners yesterday asked Federal authorities here whether a Filipino could legally register, and were told that Filipinos had been classed as Mongolians and therefore had no right to vote. An effort will be made to obtain an official ruling on this point.

BREAD HIGHER IN TWO CITIES

Prices Are Being Advanced in Pittsburgh and Chicago.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 22.—The price of bread is being advanced in Pittsburgh, according to F. P. Wilhelm, secretary of the Western Association of Master Bakers, and the recommendations of the National Association have been seconded by the local organization and individual bakers are already raising the price to 10 cents a loaf. He said the Sherman anti-trust law prevents the association from raising the price of bread but does not prevent it from recommending the increase.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The 5-cent loaf of bread will cost 6 cents on and after Sept. 23, the West End Baking Co. gave notice today. For some time dealers have been saying there is an actual loss in the sale of the 5-cent loaf. The price increase follows conferences of bakers in all parts of the country and the recent convention of the Master Bakers in Chicago.

CITY ORDERED TO EQUALIZE RATES TO WATER USERS

State Commission Holds Ordinance Giving Manufacturers Reduced Charge Is Unjust.

FIVE DAYS FOR A REPLY

Board Says Rate Based on Difference in Service Would Be Fair.

The State Public Service Commission at Jefferson City today issued an order condemning the present St. Louis water rates schedule, which was designed to encourage manufacturing industries, and which gives manufacturers a much lower rate than other meter consumers. It ordered that the "inequality and unjust discrimination" in the rates, as shown in the Civic League's complaint filed last June, be removed on or before Jan. 1 next.

The Board of Aldermen, which passed the ordinance establishing the present schedule, is directed to reply within five days after receiving a copy of the order, and to state whether it will accept and obey the order.

The commission holds that the city has a right to grade the charges according to the quantity of water consumed, but it holds that the city has not the right to make a marked discrimination between different classes of users when there is no substantial difference in service. Eugene McQuillin of St. Louis wrote the order, the other members of the commission concurring.

Civic League Figures Quoted.
The commission quotes figures from the Civic League's petition, showing that water used for manufacturing purposes, in excess of 24,000 cubic feet for six months, is charged for at the rate of 4 1/2 cents a hundred cubic feet, without further regard to the quantity used. For all other uses, except swimming pools, it says, the price varies on a sliding scale, with 12 1/2 cents a hundred as the charge to users of 24,000 cubic feet in six months. This rate is lowered when a larger quantity is used, but it never gets so low as the manufacturing rate, even when 32,000 cubic feet are used in six months.

As to the intention of the city in granting manufacturers a lower rate, the opinion states, "According to the undisputed testimony on the part of the city, the avowed purpose of the schedule is to encourage the establishment of manufacturing plants in St. Louis. It is said that high water rates would prevent this."

As to this, the commission holds that "this suggestion requires brief consideration. It is the responsibility of the powers of the city of St. Louis may be used for municipal purposes only. The city of St. Louis is a public institution, created to promote public as distinguished from private objects."

The city, after the passage of the water rates ordinance, filed with the commission, March 17 last, its schedule of water rates as fixed by the ordinance. Protests were filed by the Civic League, the Central Trades and Labor Union, the Central Civic Council and a number of individuals. A hearing was held March 24, and the commission at that time overruled the protests, but stated that the members of the commission had grave doubts of the validity of the new rates.

In its first complaint the Civic League sets forth that the city, under the schedule fixed by the ordinance, would be selling water to manufacturers at less than the cost of pumping and distribution.

The Civic League later filed a new proceeding, and at a hearing June 27, William F. Woerner, representing the league, attacked the manufacturers' rates as flagrant and odious discrimination in favor of a class.

U. S. BATTLESHIPS MAKE GREAT GUNNERY RECORD

Score 75 Per Cent of Hits in Target Practice Before Navy Consulting Board.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—A gunnery record, showing better than 75 per cent of hits was the remarkable target practice of the Atlantic fleet witnessed in Lynn Haven Roads Wednesday by the 16 members of the Navy Consulting Board, according to some who saw it.

Approximately 60 hits were scored by the Texas, one member of the board stated, out of 80 shots fired. No. 1 turret made 11 hits out of a dozen shots, and No. 2 turret 10 hits out of 12 shots. The other turrets made equally splendid records.

"The chief target record," said W. L. Saunders of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and vice chairman of the Consulting Board, "was fired from the Texas at a small target three feet square at a mile's distance. The target was being towed at five knots an hour and the ship was running 10 knots on an opposite course. Two of the shots were bull-eyes and the third scratched the edge of the target."

The night firing and battle practice by the Minnesota and other ships was said to have made a profound impression on the board.

EPIRUS ASKED TO JOIN IN REVOLT MOVE IN GREECE

Deputy for Janina Publishes Appeal to Inhabitants to Aid "Provisional Government."

STARTED AT SALONIKI

Eleventh Army Division and Police There Went Over to Defense Organizers.

ATHENS, Sept. 22.—Constantino Melas, Deputy for Janina, has published an appeal to the inhabitants of Epirus, asking them to join in the national defense movement started at Saloniki.

The Committee of National Defense was organized at Saloniki by Greek military officers and prominent civilians in the last days of August. The committee established what it termed the "Provisional Government of Macedonia," and addressed an appeal to the Greek people and army, urging them to drive the Bulgarians from Greek soil.

Sept. 3, a Saloniki dispatch stated the Eleventh Army Division, the police and the Liberal, or Venizelist, party in Macedonia had joined the revolutionary movement and that a general mobilization had been decreed in the province. No definite news as to what has happened since then has been permitted to pass the censor.

Recent reports from Greece have asserted that former Premier Venizelos was considering going to Saloniki and placing himself at the head of the revolutionists.

Further disorders in Greek Macedonia, where a revolutionary movement has been in progress for some time were reported today. A dispatch from Kozani (a town of some 10,000 inhabitants, 55 miles southeast of Monastir), says the Greek civil authorities have been removed from office by the inhabitants. The police chief and Maj. Karapanos, the military governor, with a company of the Thirty-first Regiment of the line, are said to have joined the uprising.

Report Plot to Kill Former Greek Premier.

MILAN, Sept. 22.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Secolo says:

"A conspiracy to kill Eleutherios Venizelos has been discovered, with the result that the guard of Creteans about his house has been augmented and friends accompany the ex-premier when he goes out."

"Two lines of trenches have been built around King Constantine's palace, which is constantly guarded by large forces."

VENIZELLOS WILL HOLD UP DECISION ON A REVOLUTION

Says He Will Give Government Brief Time to Determine Whether It Will Enter War.

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, Sept. 20, via London, Sept. 22.—Eleutherios Venizelos, the former Premier and Cretan statesman, was asked today as to the truth underlying the reports that he is going to Saloniki to put himself at the head of a temporary revolutionary government, and, in reply, he declared to the Associated Press:

"I cannot answer now. I must wait a brief time and see what the government proposes to do before deciding on the course it will be best to adopt in the event that Greece does not enter the war."

"As I said on Aug. 27, if the King will not hear the voice of the people we must ourselves devise what is best to do. We do not know what that will be but a long continuation of the present situation would be intolerable. Already we have suffered all the agonies of a disastrous war, while remaining neutral."

Morale of Army Good.
We have had 10 months of mobilization to the families of the men mobilized, while both Balkan wars only included 13 months with greater funds available for the relief of the families of the soldiers. Our boundaries have been invaded, towns, crops and farms have been destroyed, and all horrors enacted. We have had all the financial burdens of war and the cost of maintaining a useless mobilization. The morale of the army, which three years ago was at the topmost pitch, has been destroyed by inaction and now is completely gone. Then we have a victorious, now we have a beaten army."

"We even have more than an entire army corps of Greek soldiers prisoners in a foreign country, and already we have paid the Bulgarians an immense war indemnity, amounting, in military equipment, property destroyed and loot of Greek cities occupied, to more than $60,000,000. And, finally, we are perhaps on the verge of making now, at last, that war which we have not fought, but have paid for in blood, tears and treasure."

"And if Greece does not enter the war," he was asked.

"The Greek people are successful," replied M. Venizelos, "certainly all of Macedonia is lost to us. You have seen what the Germano-Bulgarian guarantees are worth in their written pledge that they would not occupy Kavala, Drama or Seres."

"If the entente allies are victorious,"

CITY GETS 5 WEED CUTTERS OUT OF 76 WHO ARE SUMMONED

All Had Passed Efficiency Examination—Work Will Be Given

Laborers of the first and second class, of certified efficiency, are not hankering for jobs as weed-cutters. That became apparent today when 76 men who had taken examinations before the Efficiency Board responded out of 76 to whom letters had been sent.

To the 30 it was explained that they could have jobs as weed cutters in the campaign to be started next week by the Health Department to clean up the vacant lots. Fifteen promptly refused. Ten made excuses and said they would come back later. Five accepted. Seventy-five are needed.

Applicants for jobs whose efficiency has not been inquired into, but who appear strong enough to cut weeds, are being turned over to the Board of Health.

One of the men who responded to a letter was a deaf negro. He brought along a blind negro to listen for him. He was rejected.

DEPUTY ASSESSOR
DIED IN 8 HOURS
IN THREE DAYS

William C. Schramm Spent Much of Time at Office of Company He Recently Bought.

CITY REQUIRES FULL TIME

Charter Specifies Violation Is Ground for Removal—Taking Vacation, Schramm Says.

Although the charter provides that city officers shall devote their entire time to the duties of their office, William C. Schramm, chief deputy in the office of his father, Assessor Frank W.
Schramm, at a salary of $2400 a year,
recently has given much of his time to the affairs of a disinfecting business which he has purchased from the Board of W. Van Dyne, former treasurer of the Missouri Pacific freight office, who is awaiting trial on a charge of embezz-ing $75,000 from the railroad.

On three days this week Schramm
spent the greater part of each forenoon
and afternoon at the disinfecting company's office at 2108 Olive street. The city he gave to the city on those three days aggregated less than eight hours.

Reporters for the Post-Dispatch, discovering Schramm's activity in connection with the disinfecting business, whose name he has changed from the American Disinfecting Co. to the American Chemical Products Co., found that on the first three days this week he devoted twice as much time to his private business as to his duties at the city hall.

Requirement of Charter.
Article 9, section 12, of the new charter says: "All officers and employees except the Mayor, members of the Board of Aldermen, members of the Board of Examiners of the Board of Children's Guardians, Board of Children's Guardians, board in charge of the zoological park and such others as may be appointed by ordinance, shall devote their entire time to the duties of their office."

Under the old charter all city officers were required to work from 9 a. m. to 5
p. m. from Oct. 1 to April 1, and from 1 a. m. to 6 p. m. from April 1 to Oct. 1.
The new charter does not specify the length of the working day, but custom has established 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.
as the working hours. Any city officer who fails to perform his duties may be removed if charges are made and sustained by the Mayor.

Schramm last Monday arrived at the office of his private concern shortly before 9 a. m. He left there at 10:45 a.
m. and took a car west to Ewing avenue, where he alighted and walked to the office of a concern at 2808 Locust street and stayed about 15 minutes. On leaving the Locust street address he went to the city hall, arriving there at 11:35 a. m. and remaining until 12:35 p.
m., when he went to lunch. After lunch Schramm returned to his Olive street office, where he remained seated at his desk in his shirt sleeves until 3:30 o'clock, when he again returned to the city hall. He left the city hall at 4:50 having devoted a total of two hours and 15 minutes to his work there during the day.

Tuesday Schramm arrived at the Olive street office at 9:30 a. m. He went from there to the city hall at 10:45 o'clock, remaining at his city office until he went to lunch at noon.
After lunch he returned to the Olive street office and remained until 3:15 o'clock, when he went back to the city hall and stayed until 5 o'clock, putting in three hours during the day at his duties for the city.

On Wednesday Schramm was in the office at the city hall less than two hours and made trips to his Olive street office both in the morning and afternoon.

Sole Owner of Concern.
When a reporter called on him yesterday and asked about his connection with the business on Olive street, Schramm said he bought the business
from Van Dyne last June and is its sole owner.

"I'm taking a split vacation this year," he explained, "getting a week
here and there and a day here and there."
The custom when taking a vacation is to make request of the Mayor for a leave of absence, or to file notice of taking a vacation with the City Registrar. Schramm said he had done neither as the vacation he is taking this year is not formal.

"I was it understood," he said,
"that I have not taken any of the city's time to devote to my private affairs and I have not solicited any business for my concern. I employ a manager and two salesmen and they are competent to run the business without assistance from me."

Assessor Schramm, at the city hall today, was asked for a statement about his son having devoted a considerable part of his time to private business.
William C. Schramm was present at the interview and advised his father not to talk.

The Assessor said his son was "taking a little vacation at times, though his leave of absence was not recorded with the City Registrar." "As my son is on a vacation, he has a right to attend to his business, or, as I understand it,
his wife's business," said Schramm.

Gets New Business.
Porter Wiegand, purchasing agent for the Standard Stamping Co., of which his father, George Wiegand, is president, said Schramm had solicited the business of his company and that he had thought of giving him it's business in future. Wiegand had already noticed the company from which the disinfecting was used in the office and factories of his concern had been bought for nearly 10 years, that he had decided to make a change, but was making it "for business reasons only."

WEEKS CASE SENT TO JUDGE CAVE'S COURT

Judge Hennings, Civic League
Member, Relieved From Hearing Its Injunction Action.

The Civic League's injunction suit to stop the payment of Hank Weeks' salary of $150 a month, which he receives as de facto superintendent of excavations in the Street Department, was transferred this morning to Circuit
Judge Cave's court, Judge Hennings, to whom it was first assigned, asked to be excused from sitting in the case, on the ground that he is a member, though not a particularly active one, of the Civic League.

A demurrer, filed by City Counselor
Dues, places three Democratic officials in the attitude of fighting for the right to pay out the city's money to Weeks,
who is a Republican city committeeman.
These officials, who are defendants in the injunction suit, are Comptroller Player, Auditor Sheehan and Treasurer
Menne. It is not believed that the granting of an injunction would be a crushing blow to any of them, but the traditions of officialdom require them to resist the suit. Dues is a Republican. His assistant, Everett Paul Griffin, who aided in preparing the demurrer, is a member of the Civic League.

The demurrer states that the Civic League has not shown a cause of action, that the Court has no jurisdiction, and that other remedies at law, such as quo warranto proceedings, are open.
Weeks, who is a co-defendant, was not represented by counsel. The league alleges in its petition that he was not holding his position legally, having failed to pass the Efficiency Board's examination, which another contestant,
W. J. McKenzie, passed.

Judge Cave is expected to set a date
for a hearing after his return to the city next week.

PRESIDENT TO CONFER WITH
AMBASSADOR TO BRITAIN

Blacklist and Mail Interference Probably Will Be Discussed in Conference Today.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 22.—
President Wilson has arranged to confer later today with Walter Hines Page,
American Ambassador to Great Britain.
It is understood that the British blacklisting of some American firms and interference with American mails are to be discussed. The Ambassador will remain at Shadow Lawn over night.

The President also had an engagement with the Assistant Secretary Sweet of the Department of Commerce, a candidate for Governor of Michigan. Democratic politics in the Middle West will be discussed.

Arrangements were made today for throwing open the gates of Shadow Lawn to admit the general public at the reception the President will give tomorrow afternoon to New Jersey business men. The President will speak from the same platform on which he delivered his notification address.

Paralysis Cases Again Decrease.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Twenty new cases of infantile paralysis, seven fewer than yesterday, were reported by the health authorities today. The deaths numbered 11, an increase of five.

THE EASIEST WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This de-solving it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night
when retiring; use enough to moisten
the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and stinging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—ADV.

FARIS CONFIDENT
"DRUGS" WILL BEAT
ROACH IN COURT

Prohibition Leader Cites Decisions to Support Prohibition Amendment.

MANDAMUS TO BE FILED

Attempt to Force Secretary of State to Put Question on Ballot Decided On.

H. P. Faris of Clinton, Mo., treasurer of the Prohibition National Committee, today cited Missouri Supreme Court decisions which, he said, bear out his contention that the Secretary of State refusal to put the prohibition amendment on the ballot will be without effect. The Supreme Court, he confidently believed, will order that the amendment be placed on the ballot.

Faris went from Clinton to Kansas City yesterday and attended the meeting of Prohibitionists which resulted in the announcement that mandamus procedings will be instituted in the Supreme Court immediately to force the placing of the amendment on the ballot.

In his discussion of the probable action of the Supreme Court when the question comes before it, Faris said:
"The court ruled specifically and plainly on this exact question in the case of the State vs. Carter, Faris, Judge. It said: 'When a referendum petition, verified as required by statute, purporting to contain the requisite number of names, is presented to the Secretary of State, he must file the same and leave to the courts the determination of questions of latent fraud, forgery and hermetic illegality.'"

"The court goes on to say that 'It will be seen that the sole question to be determined is whether the petition contains the names of the requisite number of the voters in two-thirds of the congressional districts,' and adds, pertinent: 'It involves more of arithmetic than of law.'"

"To the constitutionality of the measure the court has said before that it is not concerned with hypothetical cases and will wait until measures become laws before considering their constitutionality."

However, you may say that there is ample time in which to make our appeal to the voters to see that there is not a single wet candidate returned to the legislature from the country districts,
and thus force statutory prohibition by legislative enactment in January, 1917,
six months earlier."

Secretary Roach has no more power to pass on the constitutionality of measures submitted to him than any clerk in his office, Faris contends.

The decision of the Supreme Court,
last February, in the case of Putnam
vs. Drabell et al, in which the segregation ordinance here was involved, also has been cited. In that case the Court held that "during the process of legislation in any mode the work of the lawmakers is not subject to judicial arrest or control, nor open to judicial inquiry."

Secretary Roach, in his letter informing the dry leaders of his refusal to put the amendment on the ballot, quoted from the Federal Constitution to sustain his position. He said action on the prohibition amendment would be a violation of the Constitution, as the passage of the amendment would be a trespass upon the rights of Congress inasmuch as it intends to interfere with interstate commerce in the exclusion
from the State of liquor for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes. He contended the State Supreme Court had held that the amendment was constitutional with discretion in such matters,
although he failed to quote the decision
in which such ruling had been handed down.

ROOSEVELT AND TAFT TO MEET OCT. 3 IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—At the Union
League Club on Oct. 3 Col. Theodore Roosevelt and Mr. William H. Taft are to meet, shake hands and exchange such pleasantries as are usual on occasions
of the sort.

Ellihu Root is to officiate. He will escort the President who made him Secretary of State to the man who made him chairman of the Republican convention, and if the two do not recognize each other because of their long estrangement he will introduce them.

Everyone who was sent an invitation was advised that Col. Roosevelt and Mr.
Taft would probably be present, so neither the Colonel nor Mr. Taft will go to the club under any delusion. Col.
Roosevelt accepted the invitation sent to him about a week ago. Mr. Taft was not heard from until the last two or three days.

If Too Fat Get
More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET
AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT.
TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens
the oxygen-carrying power of the blood,
the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the body is unhealthy. "You are fat and by indoor life is unhealthy,
and if nature is not assisted in throwing out the excess of fat, it will build up a resisting habit."

When you feel that you are getting too
stout, take the matter in hand at once.
Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health is ruined by carrying around a burden of unhealthiness.
Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air. Breathe the fresh air from Walt-Wilson Drug Co., or any other reliable source. Take one or two tablets after each meal and one before retiring at night.

GERMAN PRINCE CALLS ON POPE
AND PRESIDENT TO END WAR

Alexander of Hohenzollern Says, in Newspaper Article Only They Can Prevent Catechism.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Prince Alexander of Hohenzollern, according to a Morning Post dispatch from Bern, has published in the Neue Zürcher Zeitung appealing to the Pope and to President Wilson to bring about "an honorable peace."

The Prince, as quoted, contends that the war will be ended either by a compromise child, the complete ruin of all the belligerents. There are two men, he says, able to prevent the catastrophe
and they are the Pope and President Wilson. The power of the President, according to the Prince, consists in his ability by a single word to stop the exportation of munitions of war from the United States.

The only Prince Alexander of Hohenzollern, according to the Al-manach de Gotha is Prince Alexander of Hohenzollern-Schillingfuerst, a minor branch of the family. He is 54 years old.

RUBY STEVENS TELLS HER STORY AT MURDER TRIAL

Declares Man She Killed Had Prom-

to Answer Letters.

TOLLA, Kan., Sept. 22.—Ruby Stevens, charged with the murder of Clifford Kistner, took the stand in her own defense yesterday in the District Court.
Her counsel brought forward a defense
based on emotional insanity with a touch of the unwritten law at times.

She stated that she had known Kistner for some time, and that she had been acquainted with Kistner two years ago, how he had made love to her and had promised to marry her. Later she appealed to him by letter to help her
but the letters never were answered.
When Kistner was born, she testified,
she left it on the doorstep of a rich cat-tlemaster.

Miss Stevens wept as she denied any recollection of the killing of Kistner. A

NAVY DEPARTMENT TO ASK
BIDS ON HUGE DIRIGIBLE

Several Smaller Airships of American Type Will Also Be Built for Training Purposes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Navy Department today announced that it will send out specifications calling for bids for the construction of a huge modern dirigible balloon.

It will not be called a Zeppelin, and technically will not be entitled to that classification. It will however be the largest dirigible yet, probably 500 feet or more in length and of great power.

The most interesting thing about the proposed Zeppelin is that War Department officials are assured at least
three or four in the country
are prepared to build such a craft.

It is planned, also, to purchase several small dirigibles to be used as school ships for future naval fliers. These will be of the American type, some of the general Zeppelin type, probably 500
feet or more in length and of great
power.

The most interesting thing about the
proposed Zeppelin is that War Department officials are assured at least
three or four in the country
are prepared to build such a craft.

200 LOTS OF FURS ARE SOLD
IN 100 MINUTES AT AUCTION

Wolf and Raccoon Pelts Offered Today—150,000 Skins Disposed of Yesterday.

A record for fast selling of furs was made this morning at the auction being conducted by the Fur Exchange, Second and Elm streets. Philip
B. Brown, president of Fur Exchange
Co., cried 200 lots within 100 minutes,
each lot being sold.

Wolf and raccoon skins were offered.
The top price of the forenoon was brought when $25 apiece was bid for a lot of extra large black wolf pelts. The lowest bid was 12 cents each for low grade wolfs. The raccoons did not bring prices quite so high, the top price being $1.75 for extra fine pelts; the lowest 40 cents for a low grade skin.

Yesterday 150,000 skins were sold. Lynx was most in demand, and there was keen competition for the 14,000 skins offered. Prices received were fully 20 per cent higher than in recent sales. Russian sables are extremely scarce this year. Only 75 have been offered, and these brought full prices.

LETTER CARRIER CHARGED WITH ROBBING THE MAIL

Inspector Says Arrest Was Caused
on Evidence Obtained by Means of Test Letter.

Walter C. Scharr of 1917A Chouteau avenue, a letter carrier at the main Postoffice, in the service for 15 years,
was arrested today on a warrant charging him with embezzling money taken from a letter sent through the mail. To a Post-Dispatch reporter Scharr denied the charge. "He will employ an attorney and fight the case."

Postoffice Inspector Reid said Scharr's
arrest followed a year's investigation.
Complaints were received, he said, of letters disappearing on Scharr's route.
He said a test letter was finally fixed up by inspectors and posted on Scharr's route, but it did not arrive at the Postoffice in this morning's mail.

When Scharr did not deliver it he was told to empty his pockets before inspectors. They allege $3.25 in silver and currency, a description of which had previously been noted, and which had been mailed in the test letter addressed to Sam Vincent at Cape Girardeau, Mo., were in Scharr's pockets. Scharr is married and has a son 11 years old.

LAMM ASKS SIX
QUESTIONS ON LAND
BANK MEASURE

Wants Gardner to Say Where
He Will Get Capital When
State Is Bankrupt.

SPEECH AT SULLIVAN

Asks How Many Jobs Proposed
Act Will Create and How Salaries Will Be Paid.

SULLIVAN, Mo., Sept. 22.—Henry Lamm, Republican nominee for Governor, in a speech at the tri-county fair
here yesterday, propounded six questions regarding the land bank act which he desires Frederick D. Gardner, the Democratic nominee, to answer:

"Several weeks ago I challenged Col.
Gardner to debate this measure with me at some point to be selected by him, but up to this time he has not accepted my challenge," Lamm said.

"If Col. Gardner will oblige me by consenting to a debate I should like to ask him the following questions:

How are you going to get the $1,000,000 for the capital stock of the land bank when the State Treasury
now is bankrupt and institutions are borrowing money with which to operate?"

Do you propose to increase taxation, issue bonds or starve the department of the State along educational and philanthropic lines in order to raise the $1,000,000?

How many jobs does this bill create,
and where is the money going to be drawn from with which to pay the salaries?"

How will the losses of this bank be paid when there are losses, in as much as there is provided but one-half of 1 per cent on the capital stock
with which to pay operating expenses?"

Is the taking off of the taxes
from debenture bonds and mortgages
under the act a direct step toward single tax, which the farmers fought and killed a few years ago?"

Is it good banking policy to elect the directors of the bank at a political election?"

"I notice in the public press that Col.
Gardner respectfully declined to debate
the land bank act with me.

"Maybe he is afraid that I would not be able to look after myself and he doesn't want to use me up completely."

"Col. Gardner and his associates on the Democratic State ticket swallowed

ST. LOUISAN BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN DROWNED

Body of Joseph P. Quinn, Retired Rug Buyer, Sought in Wisconsin River.

A search of the Wisconsin River, at Kilbourn, Wis., is being made for Joseph Quinn, 5671 Cates avenue, for 14 years a rug buyer for the Famous & Barr Co., whose relatives believe he was drowned when fishing Tuesday.

Ray F. McNally, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., a son-in-law, with whom Quinn lived, went to Kilbourn to assist in the search, and telegraphed Mrs. Quinn yesterday that the body had not been recovered.

Quinn was 67 years old. He retired from work last February. For many years he spent his vacations fishing and hunting in Wisconsin. Last Monday he telegraphed Mrs. Quinn that he would be home Wednesday. He stopped at Kilbourn to get mail and fish a few hours in the Wisconsin River. He hired a rowboat, which was later found empty. He was a sufferer from high blood pressure and his relatives believe he became dizzy and fell out of the boat.

JOHN H. TYSON ENDS HIS LATEST ROMANCE IN 6 DAYS

Says His Bride Knew All the Time That He Married Her to Spite Another Woman.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—John H. Tyson, has ended his latest romance—his elopement and marriage to Miss Rose Exner, 257 Lexington avenue, after only six days.

A report came from Greenwich, Conn., yesterday that he and Mrs. Tyson had separated; that he had told her he loved another and never should have married her. He was called by telephone at his home at Riverside, Conn.

"Yes, that's right," he said. "She knew all the time—I had told her—that I wanted to marry her because I was mad at someone else. I asked her to marry me and she did, knowing exactly the situation."

"I was mad at another woman—the woman that sent me the telegram saying: 'Congratulations, dearest boy, Good luck.'"

"The marriage to Miss Exner was his third matrimonial adventure."

CARNEGIE YACHT SCIENTISTS PUTS IN AT SAN FRANCISCO

Men Who Have Been on Tour Since 1915, Say They Have Corrected Many Ocean Charts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—The non-magnetic yacht Carnegie, carrying a party of scientists on a world-tour of research work, put in here yesterday from Lytleton, N. Z. The expedition has been on its present cruise since it left New York in March, 1915.

Since then its range has been the Pacific Ocean from the Aleutian Islands in the north to the Antarctic ice packs. J. P. Ault is master of the vessel. In the party are J. A. Luke of the University of Kansas; F. C. Loring of Purdue and Columbia Universities and Bradley Jones of the Boston Institute of Technology; H. S. Johnson, student of atmospheric conditions in the original party out of New York, left the ship at Lytleton.

The scientists made corrections in many ocean charts, which they found wrong, as a result of their investigation. In the Antarctic the expedition made a futile search for Dougherty Island, reported discovered by Capt. John Dougherty in 1820.

SUGAR GROWERS AND REFINING COMPANY SETTLE DIFFERENCES

Louisiana Planters Had Filed Suits Aggregating $150,000,000 Under Anti-Trust Law.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—Differences that for the last three years have existed between Louisiana sugar cane growers and producers and the American Sugar Refining Co. have practically been settled, members of a committee of growers said when they returned from Chicago, where they conferred with officials of the refining company.

The refining company, according to the growers' announcement, has agreed to purchase 50,000 tons of the 1915 Louisiana sugar cane crop at New York quotations.

The withdrawal of damage suits of the planters against the refining company was not made a condition of the agreement. The planters, however, were given until Oct. 7 to accept an offer of the refining company to handle 100,000 tons of the 1915 crop and settle the suits for $350,000. The suits, approximately 300 in number, were filed in 1914. They ask for treble damages, aggregating $350,000,000, under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court, speaking at an informal reception given in his honor by local Zionist leaders last night, pledged $6000 to the Zionist movement on condition that Boston Jews succeed in raising the remaining $5,000 of $24,000 pledged at the Hebrew Congress in Philadelphia last spring.

REED DEFENDS ADAMSON LAW AT SPRINGFIELD

Says Congress Yielded to No One's Demand, but Acted Wisely to Prevent Calamity.

DENIES IT FIXED WAGES

Senator Declares Only Way to Investigate Measure's Effect Is by Actual Experiment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 21.—Senator Reed of Missouri spoke in reply to Candidate Hughes' attack on the administration, at the Illinois State Fair, here yesterday.

Reed's speech was marked by a situation which Charles Boeschstein of Edwardsville, Ill., national Democratic committeeman from Illinois, declared to be "an insult to a member of the United States Senate." Reed spoke in the Coliseum at the State fair grounds, from the same platform Hughes had occupied 48 hours before. During his speech fine draft horses were paraded before the judges in one end of the Coliseum, while beef cattle were displayed in the other end of the building. His remarks were interpolated with the neighing of horses and the bellowing of cattle. Toward the end of the speech the booming of cannon at a fireworks display nearby annoyed the Senator. To add to these disturbances, two peanut vendors began "barking" their wares among the audience directly opposite the speakers' stand so loudly that Gov. Dunne, who had introduced the Senator, arose from his chair and called upon the vendors to desist until the meeting was over.

Senator Reed's speech followed:

"After having for 10 days discussed serious matters as the discharge of one or two subordinate Government employees, Mr. Hughes at last has discovered something which he hopes to make an issue. He declares in substance and effect that union labor, like a highwayman with a pistol, approached Congress and compelled it to enact an eight-hour law, and that Congress in a cowardly and treacherous manner surrendered the dignity of the nation to the unlawful and violent demand of labor."

"Naturally Mr. Hughes takes this view. It is the assertion of at least some of the railway presidents. It is not the first time Mr. Hughes has taken the side of the railroads."

Vetoed Two-Cent Fare Bill.

"As Governor of New York, on June 11, 1907, he vetoed the 2-cent fare bill, although beyond all question 2-cent fare would have paid a splendid profit to the railroads in that State, where the density of population exceeds that of Illinois by nearly 100 per cent."

"On June 15, 1907, he vetoed a full crew bill, although it simply provided that when a train of cars was so long that it could not be handled with safety by five men an additional member should be added to the crew."

"May 23, 1908, he vetoed the 5-cent street car fare bill, although it provided that if such fare upon investigation was found by the Public Service Commission of New York to be too low it might be raised."

"Jan. 5, 1910, he sent a message to the General Assembly of New York, denouncing the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution, and succeeded in defeating the approval of that amendment at that session of the New York Legislature. He did this at a time when the almost unanimous voice of the American people demanded the income tax."

"On Jan. 5, 1915, he concurred in the decision in the case of Lawlor vs. Loewe, commonly known as the Danbury Hatters' case, an opinion which started the country at large to use the mildest possible term, very close to the edge of judicial oppression."

"The speaker did not quote any of the reasons Mr. Hughes gave for the several acts described."

Quotes Hughes on Adamson Law.

"I now quote the exact language of Mr. Hughes relative to the railroad controversy:

"The Adamson bill is a force bill. It was legislation without inquiry, without knowledge. The demand by the administration for such legislation as the price of peace was a humiliating spectacle. It was not only a serious misuse of official power, but a deplorable abdication of moral authority."

"The excuses presented are futile. The Adamson bill is not a bill providing for an eight-hour workday. It does not fix hours at all. It regulates wages. Its provisions do not require any employer to employ any set of men for any eight hours a day. Eight hours a day laws are to avoid fatigue and overstrain by prohibiting employment in excess of the requirement. There is nothing of that sort in this bill."

"What it does is to provide by law for an increase in wages for certain men. They may work just as long as before. They may work 10 hours or more. They are simply to get more pay. The act provides that in contracts for labor and service eight hours shall be deemed a day's work, and the measure or standard of a day's work for the purpose of reckoning the compensation for services to all employees of the sort described."

"When he delivered this utterance Mr. Hughes might well have been accused of plagiarism, for the same speech in almost the identical language was delivered on the floor of the United States Senate by such champions of the people as Reed Smoot of Utah, Jacob Gallinger of New Hampshire and Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania. There is nothing new in what Mr. Hughes says either in thought or diction."

"Congress did not yield to the demand of union labor. Congress did not yield to the demand of the railway presidents. Neither the railway presidents nor the railway employees ever came to Congress or the President with any kind of demand whatsoever."

His Version of What Occurred.

"Stated in a word, this is what occurred: 400,000 railway employees upon the one hand, the presidents of the railways upon the other hand, were about to engage in a controversy which would tie the public highways of 100,000,000 people. The President and Congress, realizing that this controversy if carried on, would produce irreparable damage and injury to the innocent bystanders, but innocent bystanders intervened on behalf of the innocent bystanders, to-wit, the public and prevented the most calamitous strike that has ever threatened any country at any time since governments were formed. We averted this strike without the surrender of a single principle, and have taken the preliminary step toward the formation of a plan which will result in the abatement of all controversies involving the public highways of the people."

Here Senator Reed described the terrible condition into which he said the country would have been thrown by a strike.

Continuing, He Asked.

"Continuing, he asked: 'What would Mr. Hughes have done if he had been President in this crisis?'

"I will tell you what he might have done," Senator Reed said. "He might have called out the army and navy of the United States. He might have seized all these railroad men and put them in jail, and then he would not have had anybody to run the trains. He might have strung soldiers along the tracks, and said: 'When the train goes by here, any man who interferes shall be shot at sight.' But what then? There would have been nobody to run the trains, or not sufficient numbers, because if you took the 400,000 trainmen out of service, there would be no 400,000 men to take their places."

"What could have happened? We could have had the usual proceedings of a strike, the men would have been discharged, the gathering up of the old labor that has been turned out for one cause or another. Then might come trouble of the most serious character. Assume that the whole force of the army should be brought to bear to protect the railways and try to keep them open, how many months would it have been, how many years would it have been, until transportation was really restored to its normal condition? How many hundred million dollars would that have cost the people of the United States—the innocent bystanders. What would Hughes have done?'

"I say again—What would he have done? Oh! boldly he would have stood, I suppose, and while he stood the country could have starved."

Losses Would Have Been Canceled.

"Viewed from any standpoint, the railroad presidents never claimed that the establishment of an eight-hour day would increase wages more than $60,000,000 a year. The men asserted it would not increase wages $30,000,000 a year. As a matter of fact, the increase would probably have been nothing like even the latter sum. But what would a strike have cost the railroads? No man capable of making an intelligent estimate will claim that a strike of one week's duration would not cost the railroads companies more than $60,000,000."

"A strike of a month, with the damages resulting directly to the railroads, the damages which would have been collected for failure to carry freight, the general disorganization of railroad business, coupled with the loss which would have come to the railroads through the complete disorganization of the country's business, would beyond any doubt have entailed a loss upon the railroads of a half billion dollars. The strike, therefore, like war, would only have brought irreparable damage and injury to the railroads."

"What would have been the financial loss to the country? We here approach a question of such proportions as to be absolutely inconceivable. The loss of factories, the derangement of all commerce, would certainly have resulted. The great majority of our industrial plants are now so organized that they must receive their supplies and ship their products by rail daily. There are 85,000 wage earners in the United States. Beyond any doubt, more than one-third of them would have been turned out of employment. The loss of wages in one day's time would have equalled the total increase in wages the railroads will be required to pay by reason of the establishment of the eight-hour law.

What He Says Was Conceded.

What was conceded in order to stop the strike? Congress had already established the eight-hour day in all Government employments. It simply extended the principle of the eight-hour day to the men engaged in the hazardous business of operating trains upon the public highways of the country. No man ought to be required to sit at the throttle of an engine more than eight continuous hours, even if we have no regard for his health, happiness and comfort. But even if we were to disregard the human rights of the human beings who run the locomotives of the country, we cannot blind our eyes to the fact that more than two-thirds

Master Bakers in Move to Have Special Session of Congress Act

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Petition asking the President to call a special session of Congress to meet the increasing cost of food by placing an embargo on food exportation were distributed today among some 30,000 retail grocers, bakers over time. This was the penalty of time and a half for over employment.

Men Waived Penalty.

"Upon the request of the President, the men agreed that they would waive the penalty and would be content to receive full pay for the overtime, so that the situation in that respect would be the same as if the men had not worked the extra time. In other words, they must pay two-thirds of the penalty which the men originally asked.

"Now, it is true that the railroads might disregard the spirit of the law and insist upon the men working overtime and pay them their full wages for overtime, but plainly it would not be to the interests of the companies to do so. They could without any additional expense to themselves put on another crew of men, and they undoubtedly will do so in all cases save, where peculiar conditions make it necessary in special instances to continue the service of a crew beyond the eight-hour period. Congress did, therefore, establish the eight-hour day as a penalty upon the railroads of payment of full time if they worked the men beyond the eight hours.

What More Congress Did.

"But this is not all that Congress did. It provided a board which will soon be appointed by the President to observe the men at the eight-hour day works and to ascertain whether it imposes any hardship upon the railroads, the object being that, if it is discovered that the men are working on the railroads to adjust the question of freight rates so that the railroads will suffer no injury. The question cannot be determined until the actual experiment has been tried. No living man can look into the future and tell how much, if anything, it will cost the railroads to work their men eight hours instead of 10 or 12. But after a trial, the facts can be arrived at.

"Mr. Hughes says this legislation was hasty. Just as he protested against a 2-cent fare in New York without investigation, against a 5-cent street car fare until there had been an investigation, and just as he saw that in the way of an income tax, he protests now that there should have been a careful investigation by Congress before it did anything. I have already suggested the only way to investigate the effect of an eight-hour day on the railroads is by actual experiment. The only question therefore upon which Congress acted that Mr. Hughes or anybody else can charge was done without consideration was the eight-hour day. I assert that that question needs no investigation. It has been debated for 20 years in this country. It is as well understood today as it could be understood if Congress conducted an investigation lasting 10 years.

Many Republicans Voted for Bill.

"In conclusion, I call attention to the attitude of Mr. Hughes' party in Congress. When this bill was introduced in the House of Representatives, 70 Republicans voted for it and only 58 Republicans voted against it. When, therefore, Mr. Hughes asserts that Congress in a cowardly way surrendered to the 'gunmen' of the railway unions he indicts as politicians the majority of the Republican members of the House of Representatives.

"When the bill came to the Senate the Republican leaders asked an adjournment so that they might hold a party caucus and determine what amendments and suggestions they desired to offer to the bill. They were given that time and they wanted it. They came into the Senate and declared that they had no plan whatsoever to suggest. Not a living Republican arose to his place to suggest a method by which the frightful calamity of a strike might be avoided. They made a lot of speeches for political purposes, but they had no constructive suggestion of any character. They then proceeded to allow the bill to come to a vote and contented themselves with voting against it. They could have prevented the passage of the bill by simply making speeches for three or four days time, and the strike would have been upon us and all those beneficent conditions Mr. Hughes seems to desire would have immediately followed.

"If they had been as anxious to defeat the bill as they were the subject practices act, they could have defeated it by the same methods. When we brought forward the corrupt practices act, they said that they would discuss the bill until December. They did nothing of the kind with reference to the railroads. The fact is that every Republican wanted the bill passed. He either wanted it passed in the hope that the Democrats were making a political mistake, or else he wanted it passed because he believed the bill would prevent a great calamity to the country. If the latter purpose controlled him, then the Republic ought to be in a position of having for political purposes permitted a bill to become a law which is in effect upon the fair name of the republic."

HUNGARIAN DIET REFUSES TO CALL A CONVOCATION

Premier Wins in Fight Made Upon Him by Counts Andrássy and Apponyi.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Hungarian Diet has rejected the motion of Counts Andrássy and Apponyi, the leaders of the opposition, for the convocation of the delegations, according to a Budapest dispatch to Reuters by way of Amsterdam.

The demand for the convocation of the delegations, bodies which will consider affairs which Austria and Hungary have in common, was the climax of a vigorous war which has been waged against the administration of Premier Tisza by Counts Andrássy and Apponyi for several weeks.

The storm which Premier Tisza is now reported to have weathered, reached its height on the entrance of Rumania into the ranks of the allies. The matters which the opposition demanded should be referred to the delegations were the alleged incompetency of the Austrian Government in the administration of foreign affairs and the inefficiency of the Austro-Hungarian army administration.

LAME GIRL GIVES 2 WEEKS OF WORK TO AID POOR BABIES

Ends Campaign for Milk and Ice Fund Only When Strength Fails Her.

CONTRIBUTIONS:
Previously acknowledged, $3526.01
Norma Weber and Blanche Moore, 2.00
Total, $3528.01

Making brief canvassing tours when she was able, and often suffering physical discomfort as a consequence, Norma Weber, 12 years old, of 4511 McKinley avenue, aided by Blanche Moore, 9, of 4321 McKimley, augmented the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund to the extent of $2.00. This they did through disposition of a handsome boudoir cap donated for the purpose by Norma's mother. The cap went to Mrs. J. Hufker of 4516 McKinley avenue.

Little Miss Weber, who was stricken by infantile paralysis about seven years ago, was unable to walk at all for some years. She is slowly improving and is now able to walk a short distance with the aid of crutches, but mainly she gets about in a cart made for her.

It was by means of the cart and crutches that Little Miss Weber, aided by Miss Moore, made the campaign for the babies' relief fund. About two weeks was required, as it was necessary for Miss Weber to wait each day until her young friend came home from school. It was seldom possible for the day's work to extend over more than a block, because of Miss Weber's fatigue, and by the time the two had accumulated the sum acknowledged today she felt that the effort could be carried no farther, notwithstanding her earnest desire to enlarge the contribution.

There is in the case of these little girls, one of them sorely afflicted, a powerful exemplification of the force of the sympathy that impels girls and boys to strive in behalf of the babies in distress, and it can hardly fail as an example in well-doing to their elders.

It is interesting to consider that the Sunday Post-Dispatch real estate pages contain more than 3000 Home offers—a paradise for the homeseeker.

BRYAN, IN WYOMING, PRAISES PRESIDENT'S SUFFRAGE STAND

Declares Wilson Indorsed Votes for Women Before Either Party Declared for Issue.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 22.—William J. Bryan, continuing his tour in the interest of President Wilson's reelection, spoke at Douglas and Casper today. Addressing a large audience here last night Bryan praised the record of President Wilson and the Democratic administration and declared that Wilson's record was better than that of Hughes on woman suffrage.

"Our President," he said, "was the first one to use the influence of the White House on the side of this great reform and he did it when neither his party nor the Republicans had indorsed suffrage."

He added that the Democratic platform is better than the Republican with respect to suffrage because it recommends that the states adopt equal suffrage, while no recommendation is made in the Republican platform.

He declared that invasion of Mexico would have undone the work of the last 40 years with South America.

HONOR FOR A POLICEMAN

Board Will Compiment Heitsman for Shooting Two Highwaymen.

Patrolman William Heitsman of the Page Boulevard District has been summoned before the Police Commissioners this afternoon to be complimented for exceptionally good service. He shot two highwaymen who mistook him for a civilian and tried to hold him up last Friday night at King's highway and Westminster place.

When the merit system was adopted seven years ago to take the place of the old annual review and decoration of policemen with medals for bravery and extraordinary arrests, the practice of commending individual patrolmen for good work was abolished. Heitsman is the first man to enjoy the distinction of being personally praised by the commissioners under the present policy.

ASTOR TO MOVE INTO FIFTH AVENUE HOUSE

Stepmother Relinquished Right to It as Residence When She Remarried.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Painters are engaged today on the grille work of the Astor residence, 840 Fifth avenue, after having finished redecorating the interior. Their appearance on the outside was in the nature of an announcement that within another fortnight Vincent Astor and his wife, who was Helen Dinwiddie Huntington, would take up their abode there.

The taking over of the house by Vincent Astor marks the relinquishment by his stepmother, the former Mrs. William K. Dick, of all her trusted share in the estate of Col. John Jacob Astor. The house was left to her under terms exactly like those under which she was given the income of $500,000 while she remained the widow of Col. Astor. When she married Dick, June 2, she lost not only the increment of the trust fund, but the house. She was well provided for, however, in an ante-nuptial settlement and otherwise.

Mr. and Mrs. Astor will make the house the theater of more pretentious social activities than they have so far attempted. While they resided at 172 East Seventeenth street their entertainments were more often gatherings in the interest of social service than otherwise, but it is understood that when they shall have come again to Fifth avenue they will go in for the affairs that made Vincent Astor's grandmother an arbiter of New York society.

It is said to be a probability that Mrs. John Astor, Vincent's mother, will return to New York this winter to become a dominant factor in social affairs. It is said also to be quite probable that she and her daughter, Muriel, may make their home at 840 Fifth avenue.

LABOR HEAD RE-ELECTED

R. T. Wood of Springfield Again Chosen President of State Body.

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 22.—R. T. Wood of Springfield was re-elected president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor at its closing session last night. His only opponent for the office was James B. Conroy of St. Louis. Other officers elected were: John Kinch of Kansas City, first vice president; George Patterson of St. Louis, second vice president; J. L. Wines of St. Joseph, secretary-treasurer. Jefferson City was unopposed as the place for next year's State convention.

Resolutions adopted today included: Indorsing President Wilson for the eight-hour railroad law; urging a congressional investigation into the cost of printing; a State printing plant; increased levy for State school purposes; opposing moving picture censorship; upholding the four railway brotherhoods; favoring amendment to homestead law; making school attendance compulsory to eighth grade.

WOMEN FIGHT HIGH FOOD PRICES

Meeting Called in Chicago to Organize for Work.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Housewives of Chicago were called upon today to attend a mass meeting at which organization will be perfected to fight increases in the prices of foodstuffs. Miss Florence King, president of the Woman's Association of Commerce, under whose auspices the meeting is to be held, urged that housewives boycott dealers or refuse to purchase supplies which have been advanced in price.

"Men are interested in buying and selling for a profit. It is folly to expect them to take any action," she called reads. "Women must put a stop to unwarranted increases and we alone can stop them."

The Noblemen's Bargain

The Bavarians have been noted as fighters throughout German history so much so that German humorists portray the Bavarian peasant as a fighting in peace as well as in war. In German humor a Bavarian village is called a "kirmess" (fair) is the Teutonic synonym for the "Donnybrook fair" of English and Irish humorous literature.

THE first few weeks of the early selling of Fall Hats have again demonstrated that we were correct in our selection of the styles and colors that the best dressed men and young men demand. The more conservative styles of last season have given way to larger hats with wider brims, the flat set brims predominating. The effect of these new hats is one of comfortable negligee combined with elegance and refinement. Colors galore with pearls, greens, browns and olives the most popular.

"If you see it in a Schmitz & Shroder ad—it's TRUE"

SCHMITZ & SHRODER
S. E. COR. EIGHTH AND WASHINGTON AV.
Also at Schmitz & Shroder's "Big Store"—East St. Louis, Ill.

ONCE upon a time the nobility of Bavaria decided that it was not only necessary, but eminently righteous, that its incomes should be increased. Really, it may seem to be an error to fight this story with "once upon a time," because if there is any truth in the story, it is that the nobility has done much more than once, it is to increase its rents and incomes.

However, in this once upon a time, the noblemen were determined to settle the matter for good, and to arrange it so that thereafter no further question could be raised.

They had tried to explain it to the stupid peasants, but in vain. Neither kind words nor perfectly plain, simple words could convince them. The nobility of the soil that they should be delighted to give up all they had to those who were better born than they.

So at last the noblemen went in a body to see Saint Peter, knowing that he held the keys not only to all the splendors of Heaven, but also to those of earth.

They were accompanied by learned counsel who had peered into all the laws, spiritual and worldly, so long and deeply that they could prove that anything was something else. Philosophers also appeared for the noblemen to argue that there always had been great distinction between the different classes of humanity and that therefore it was only just that the distinction should be increased still further.

The noblemen presented in evidence family trees that included all the famous families of antiquity. They produced a mountain of hereditary deeds, coats of arms, patents of nobility, sign manuals of kings and emperors, uniforms, court gowns, ermine-bordered robes, family jewels, family legends, even verified tales of ancestral ghosts.

Saint Peter shook his head doubtfully, but the proof was overwhelming. After a long debate, during which the learned counsel and the philosophers talked the very wind to sleep, he acceded to their demands—but he did it with a twinkle in his eye. They were so busy admiring their own nobility that, unfortunately for themselves, they quite failed to see that merry twinkle.

The Peasants Decide They Will Go to See Saint Peter.
H E gave them all that they had asked for. He did not abate a jot of the right of the low tax and the high tax. He granted to them and their assigns and heirs the right to levy tolls coming and going, laden or empty. They got the right of poll-tax, surtax, double impost and vassalage dues. Flotsam and jetsam, manorial dues, rights in crops and cattle increase, game and fish sovereignty, forest proprietorship, river control, water rights, the power of life and death, church tithes, land rents, window tax, wheel tax—everything was granted to them.

Expressing their most gracious thanks, and assuring Saint Peter that they would be pleased to do him a favor in return if the opportunity ever should occur, they went away laden with a mountain of patents and privileges greater even than the mountain of evidence that they had brought with them.

When they returned to earth, they proceeded most conscientiously to carry out everything to the smallest detail. Their keen sense of honor dictated this as being only a duty to Heaven, as it were; and the fact that the exact execution of all the privileges and grants was extremely profitable to them merely made the duty the more pleasant.

Their enthusiastic devotion to this work made matters somewhat arduous for the peasants, but the noblemen explained that things always had been arduous for them, and that therefore they were all the better off for a little more of the same tonic. When the peasants objected, it was pointed out to them that Adam had produced an Eve, and that they were ungrateful, not to say impious, if they demanded any softer lot than theirs.

At last the sorely plagued peasants had the happy idea of going to Saint Peter themselves to look into the matter and see if there was anything that he could give them.

The One Great Thing That the Noblemen Forgot to Ask For
SAINT PETER received them with much more politeness and hospitality than he had shown the noblemen. He made them comfortable and listened to their complaints. Then, without a word, he produced an immensely long list on which was written every thing he had to give away.

The peasants examined it and scratched their heads. Everything, to the smallest item, had a line drawn through it and was marked "Granted to the noble and great ones of earth."

"That is pretty tough," said the peasants, reaching for their caps and preparing to back politely out of the Saint's illustrious presence.

"Wait a moment," said Saint Peter with the twinkle bright and merry in his kind, good eye. "You have not seen all that is on the list." He pointed to the very bottom and there was marked: "The Kingdom of Heaven."

"The noblemen," said Saint Peter, chuckling, "presented no evidence of right to it. Herewith I grant you the right to the Kingdom of Heaven as exclusive privilege for the peasants and the poor and downtrodden of earth."

The peasants returned to earth, singing joyfully. When the noblemen heard that they were extremely happy over something they jumped to the perfectly natural conclusion that the peasants had something that belonged of right to them, so they demanded it.

When the honest Bavarian story-teller tells this tale he adds that it is only a jest, but that both rich and poor can learn something from it.

Ludwig Aurbacher was descended from a peasant family himself and when he became a learned man, he retained his deep sympathy for, and insight into, the life and hopes of the common people. After the Government gave him an assured existence as Professor of German Style and Aesthetics in the Royal Corps of Cadets in Munich, he found the leisure that enabled him to write a number of philosophical tales.

Their keen sense of honor dictated this as being only a duty to Heaven, as it were; and the fact that the exact execution of all the privileges and grants was extremely profitable to them merely made the duty the more pleasant.

Their enthusiastic devotion to this work made matters somewhat arduous for the peasants, but the noblemen explained that things always had been arduous for them, and that therefore they were all the better off for a little more of the same tonic. When the peasants objected, it was pointed out to them that Adam had produced an Eve, and that they were ungrateful, not to say impious, if they demanded any softer lot than theirs.

At last the sorely plagued peasants had the happy idea of going to Saint Peter themselves to look into the matter and see if there was anything that he could give them.

The One Great Thing That the Noblemen Forgot to Ask For
SAINT PETER received them with much more politeness and hospitality than he had shown the noblemen. He made them comfortable and listened to their complaints. Then, without a word, he produced an immensely long list on which was written every thing he had to give away.

The peasants examined it and scratched their heads. Everything, to the smallest item, had a line drawn through it and was marked "Granted to the noble and great ones of earth."

"That is pretty tough," said the peasants, reaching for their caps and preparing to back politely out of the Saint's illustrious presence.

"Wait a moment," said Saint Peter with the twinkle bright and merry in his kind, good eye. "You have not seen all that is on the list." He pointed to the very bottom and there was marked: "The Kingdom of Heaven."

"The noblemen," said Saint Peter, chuckling, "presented no evidence of right to it. Herewith I grant you the right to the Kingdom of Heaven as exclusive privilege for the peasants and the poor and downtrodden of earth."

The peasants returned to earth, singing joyfully. When the noblemen heard that they were extremely happy over something they jumped to the perfectly natural conclusion that the peasants had something that belonged of right to them, so they demanded it.

When the honest Bavarian story-teller tells this tale he adds that it is only a jest, but that both rich and poor can learn something from it.

Ludwig Aurbacher was descended from a peasant family himself and when he became a learned man, he retained his deep sympathy for, and insight into, the life and hopes of the common people. After the Government gave him an assured existence as Professor of German Style and Aesthetics in the Royal Corps of Cadets in Munich, he found the leisure that enabled him to write a number of philosophical tales.

Nonpartisan Vote.
WITH a presidential campaign under way which, before it ends, is likely to disclose a maximum of independent voting, it is interesting to note that scarcely does the word "mugwump" appear in the press or in speeches. Yet in the campaign of 1881, and for several quadruplets thereafter, it was the favorite derisive epithet of the partisan press and of party managers.

Timidity

TIMIDITY is generally taken for stupidity, which for the most part it is not, but proceeds from a want of education in good company. * * * Very education in good company, who have not been used to good company, are either ridiculously bashful or absurdly impudent. I have known many a man impudent from shamefacedness endeavoring to act a reasonable assurance and lastly himself up to what he imagines to be a proper and easy behavior.

A very timid, bashful man is annihilated in good company, especially of his superiors. He does not know what he says or does, and is in a ridiculous agitation both of body and mind. * * * Endeavor to possess yourself with coolness and steadiness. Speak to the King with full as little concern (though with more respect) as you would to your equals. This is the distinguishing characteristic of a gentleman and a man of the world.—Lord Chesterfield.

To Toughen Glassware.
IMMERSE the article in a pot filled with cold water, to which you add common salt has been added. Boil the water well, then cool slowly. Glass treated in this way will resist any sudden change of temperature.

Because red is the color least easily distinguished by color blind persons, experts have advocated blue disks with wide yellow rims for darker signals.

RACING IS CHIEF FAIR ATTRACTION

Agricultural Exhibits Meager at St. Louis County Exposition
at Creve Coeur.

Racing is the chief attraction at the St. Louis County Fair, at Creve Coeur, which had its formal opening yesterday. Today, set apart as Old Settlers' day, was the first day of general attendance, and the first horse races were scheduled for this afternoon, a mule race having been run yesterday.

The agricultural display is meager in the extreme, and the mechanical part is limited to a lightweight tractor or two and a few automobile displays. Unfavorable weather conditions are cited by those in charge to explain the absence of the usual big pumpkins and apples, the modest size of the squashes and cucumbers and the anemic appearance of the few tomatoes. Subsequent products make a somewhat better showing, particularly potatoes, of which about 50 pecks are on display. But the exhibition of farm products as a whole does not compare with what could have been seen in a two-minute stroll in Union Market. As St. Louis County farmers supply the produce on sale in the market, the conclusion must be that these farmers are not deeply interested in the fair display, and that they have not been representative of the agricultural resources of the county.

At hogs, which usually rival big pumpkins and crazy quilts in the attention of fair-goers, are also missing from the fair, except that August A. Busch's Great farm display includes a few fancy specimens of swine. The absence of pigs and sheep, and of any considerable number of cattle in the general company, is explained as due to the fact that in past years carefully groomed entries from stock farms outside St. Louis County, which make a circuit of the fair, have carried away the prizes, and that the local contestant grew weary. This year the outsiders did not appear, and the hog and sheep pens are empty.

The crazy quilts are in their usual place, however, together with quilts which appear rational, and the pies, cakes, jams and jellies are on their accustomed counters, within the reach of the passing small boy, but not within his grasp. An outdoor cabaret is provided by negro singers, and a band plays whenever the vocalists get tired. Special trains on the Missouri Pacific and Rock Island railroads began running today, and will continue Saturday and Sunday, the remaining days of the fair.

REPORT OF DISAGREEMENT OVER RETALIATORY LAWS IS DENIED

Denies Denounces Story That He and President's Political Advisers
Are Not in Accord.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Secretary Lansing today denounced as wholly untrue a published report that he and President Wilson's political advisers had discussed over legal phases of the retaliatory legislation aimed at Great Britain's interference with trade. He added that the views of the State Department regarding the legislation were not in shape to be discussed, and that no conclusion had been reached as to enforcement. It has been known for several days that while no course has been determined upon by Secretary Lansing, some officials of the department believe part of the legislation to be doubtfully legal and unenforceable.

WAR ON NOISE AT HOSPITAL

City Superintendent Issues New Orders to Employees.

An anti-noise crusade was inaugurated at the city hospital today by 24 probationary nurses, who were instructed yesterday to hand to the superintendent suggestions for lessening noise about the building. Acting on these suggestions the superintendent today ordered that the slamming of screen doors, the dragging of chairs and buckets across the floors by scrubwomen, loud talking of the physicians in the halls, loud talking at telephones and talking across wards must cease. The nurses were instructed to answer all telephone calls promptly so as to necessitate only one ringing of the telephone bell and to speak always in softer tones.

BANKRUPTCY SUIT RESISTED

G. A. Heman Enters Denial to Petitioners' Allegations.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy, filed Sept. 7, against G. A. Heman of 320 West Cabanne place, street-paving contractor, was before Judge Dyer in the Federal Court today on an order to Heman to show cause why he should not be adjudged bankrupt. Heman was not in court, but was represented by George D. Harris, who entered a denial of the allegations and denied that Heman was insolvent.

Heman, the attorney said, had given bond to insure the construction of street work in St. Louis, and if he should be adjudged bankrupt, and a receiver appointed, it would hold this work up and prevent the issuance of city bills.

ERNEST, SWEEP OUT PADDED CELL 3288-BY GOLDBERG.

Modest Bridegroom.

FROM a story told in Little Rock it would appear that a certain young man of that town was terrified by the conventionalities that appeared to him to be necessary in the case of his marriage to a girl of that town.

The youth sent a letter to a large clothing concern to ask:

"What is the proper dress for a groom?"

Now, it seems that the clerk who opened the mail referred this inquiry to the head of the department, and that the head thereof dictated a brief reply:

"Bottle-green coat, fawn-colored trousers, with top boots, silk hat with cockade. We can quote you prices as follows."

In a short time came this plaintive letter from the young man in Little Rock:

"I always knew it was expensive to get married, but can't you suggest something a little less elaborate?"

YOUTH'S COMPANION.

Same Old Poem.

SAME old pumpkins, same old plums!

Same old hunters, same old quail;

Same old brown October ale.

Same old football, same old hare;

Same old short-length remnant days.

Same old red leaves in the mail.

Same old chestnuts; same old fall.

—Life.

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One

DON'T you think Miss Howler has wonderful control of her voice?

"No, I don't. She sings every time anyone asks her to."

No Use for a Sign.

HIS had opened up a fish market and he ordered a new sign painted of which he was very proud. It read:

"Fresh Fish for Sale Here."

"What did you put the word 'fresh' in for," said his first customer. "You wouldn't sell them if they weren't fresh, would you?"

"He painted out the word, leaving just 'Fish for Sale Here,'" asked his second customer. "You're not selling them anywhere else are you?"

"So he rubbed out the word 'here,'" asked the next customer. "You wouldn't have fish here unless they were for sale, would you?"

"So he rubbed out everything but the word 'Fish,'" remarked the fourth customer. "Well, nobody can find fault with that sign now, anyway."

A moment later another customer came in.

"I don't see what's the use in having that sign 'Fish' up there," he said, "when you can smell them a block away."

And that's why the fish market has no sign.

Things You Remember.

(ABOUT FAMOUS MEN.)

THAT Hannibal crossed the Alps.

That Nero was a wicked fiddler.

That Socrates took poison.

That Dante discovered hell.

That Aristotle was a highbrow.

That Napoleon wore a peculiar-shaped hat.

That Washington spent a winter at Valley Forge.

That Nelson said: "England expects every man to do his duty."

That Louis XIV invented antique furniture.

That Cromwell dissolved Parliament.

That Browning wrote poetry.

That Rembrandt painted pictures.

That Darwin accused the race of descending from a monkey.—Life.

They Haven't the Time.

FIRST MOTHER: Don't you think girls ought to be brought up to do their own housework?

Second Mother: If they did they couldn't get married. In the time it takes to learn housework they would have no opportunity to be sporty, to paint and powder, to dance and indulge in other half degenerate accomplishments which are necessary to attract modern young men.—Life.

Humoring Him.

IN carrying on diplomatic relations with Germany, President Wilson humors Germany as the wife humors her husband who didn't get home from his wife's annual banquet till 4 o'clock in the morning.

The banquet left himself in noisily, and then he began to growl, and swear at a fearful rate down in the hall.

"What's the matter?" called his wife.

"Matter lah," the banquet called back, "there's two hats down here, and I—ho—dunno which 'thang my hat has on!"

His wife laughed, and said in soothing tones:

"But, dear, you've got two hats, haven't you? Hang one on each rack and come on up to bed. I know you're tired."—London Opinion.

Fair Enough.

SHE: Well, Ed, why don't you kiss me?

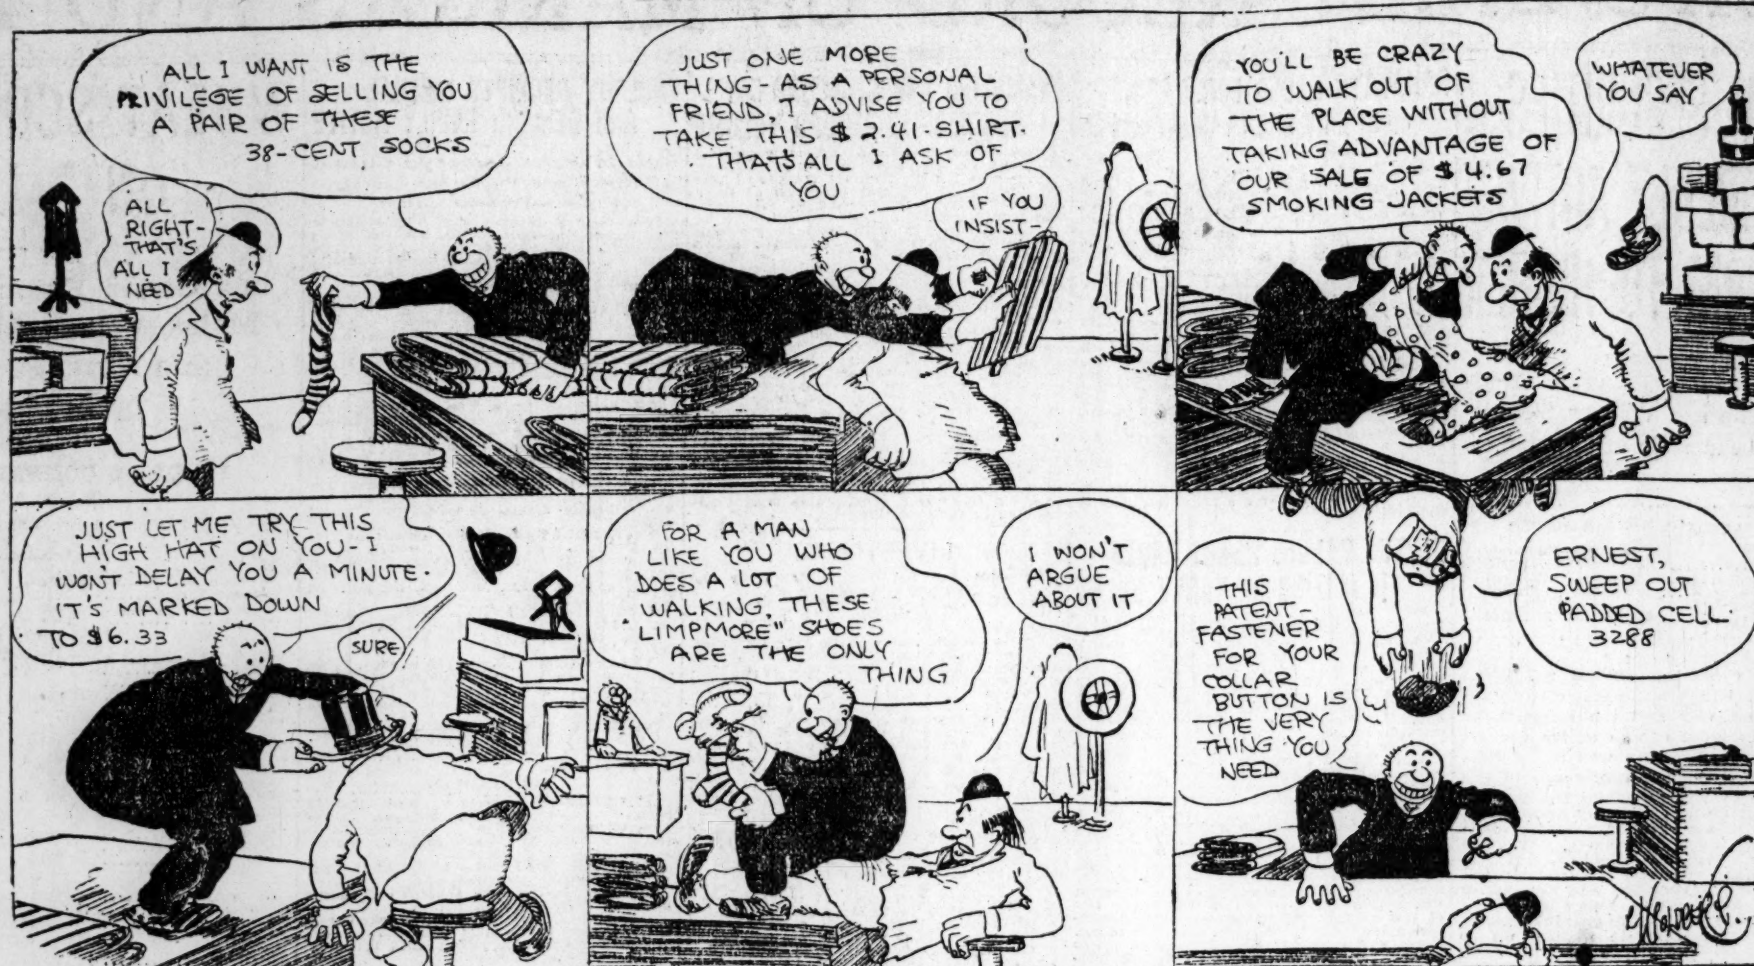

HE: I was in doubt—

she: Why not give me the benefit of it?

She Knew.

HOW useless girls are today. I don't believe they know what needles are for.

"How absurd you are, Grandma," protested the girl. "They're to make the goshawny alav."

The Supreme Test

CECIL, alighting from his two-thousand-five-hundred-dollar runabout, crossed the sidewalk and stood in front of the window where the wonderful roadster was on exhibition. He knew by heart every detail of its perfect form. Had he not gazed at it daily for a week? He drew from his pocket the catalogue. "The finest roadster in the world. Six thousand dollars."

Cecil's father lived in the big corner house on the avenue. Cecil might have gone to him courageously and asked him for the money, but the boy was too proud for that.

"No," he muttered firmly to himself as he stood in front of the window. "There is only one way. I must save and scrimp and deny myself everything."

He stealthily felt in his pocket for all the loose change that had accumulated there during the past few days.

Alas! It was only a paltry five hundred dollars. But, then, it must never be forgotten that Cecil was only 13, and that, in the stress of the war, he had naturally had to endure his share of the national burden.

From that moment, however, Cecil was a changed boy. A new light had come into his eyes, a sense of something he had never felt before. For weeks thereafter he avoided his companions, his bills for gasoline ran down to almost nothing. His father and mother noticed his preoccupation, but wisely refrained from comment.

"Let him alone," said papa, coming home one day from a ten-million-dollar

Interesting Record.

THE cornerstone laying had been a brilliant success. The weather was impressive. The master of ceremonies was very well satisfied with himself, yet with the dispersal of the crowd he became strangely excited. Hurriedly he sought the master mason.

"Is it possible to lift the cornerstone again?" he asked.

"I am afraid not, sir," said the mason. "Have you a particular reason for asking?"

"I have," said the master of ceremonies. "I've left my hat in the receptacle along with the records."

The Volunteer Adviser.

IT'S a lucky thing I came out here today!" exclaimed the delicious baseball fan. "If it hadn't been for me we'd have lost that game, sure."

"Why, the man who won this game is the chap who just now slid to second!"

"Yes, but didn't you hear me yelling at the top of my voice, telling him what to do?"

Too Long.

EDITH: Haven't you and Jack been engaged long enough to get married?

Ethel: Too long. He hasn't got a cent left.

Autumn's Coming—Autumn's Here.

BY BIDE DUDLEY.

AUTUMN'S coming, winds are blowing chill and summer's almost gone. Palm Beach suits are gone, or going; overcoats are out of pawn. Winter's winds will soon be blowing up the hill and down the slope. Very shortly I'll be missing roasting ears and cantaloupes. Buckwheat cakes with syrup dripping are about to visit us. Good sweet cider we'll be sipping while outside the snowflakes fuss. Pumpkin pies, the kind that mother makes, appear with every fall. Just the same, somehow or other, I'm not joyous—not at all. Fall and winter fools are tasty and they always stand the test. Yet I wouldn't be too hasty by declaring them the best. Pies and cakes and cider please me, but their coming makes me mope, for I know soon fall will ease me off of corn and cantaloupe.

Happy Idea.

THE railway board had met to consider the case of old Tom Jones, who in a train accident had become deaf.

"Well," said a director, "old Tom has been with us a long time, and we want to find him a new job. What do you suggest?"

"I know," said the chairman. "Let's put him in charge of the complaints department."—Tit-Bits.

No Grounds for Complaint.

OFFICER: I don't know why the men grumble. This soup is really excellent.

Sergeant: They wouldn't grumble, sir, if the cook would admit it is soup. He insists that it is coffee!—Bystander.

Would Get Something.

AMERICAN: But suppose the French don't win?

French Landlady: Then the Germans will march in. You'll have a parade, at any rate.—Lustre Blatter (Berlin).

Some People Think So.

LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR is a great favorite of mine," said Mrs. Van Spender to Mrs. Clumber, whom she was entertaining at the opera.

"I've never met her," said Mrs. Clumber. "Is she attractive?"
